

PHANG NGA DAY CRUISE

70ft Shangani, 51ft Sanyati, 43 ft Shashani.

Phang Nga bay is one of south-east Asia's most striking maritime landscapes, and is justly world famous. You can see the well-known James Bond Island, and many other similar and stunning limestone outcrops.

One of the most beautiful and surprising is the hidden lagoon in Kho Hong Phang Nga island. You can also cruise past or visit the unique 200 year old Muslim sea-gypsy village on stilts at Ko Panyee.

This is a wonderful area for sight seeing, exploring, swimming, and relaxing, with opportunities for kayaking through hidden lagoons and caves. You can hire kayaks for 500 baht each, with or without a guide. Each kayak can take up to three people. This is an opportunity to explore Koh Panak and Koh Hong, with stunning hidden caves and lagoons.

Phang Nga Bay is a national park, and the rangers will charge you 300 baht a head, 100 for children. We can also cruise round a scenic tour of southern Phang Nga Bay, (without charge from park rangers) and combine the cruise with a visit to our secret beach, or other islands. At low tide, you can anchor off the tiny sandbar of Koh Phae.

In the high season, you could combine this cruise with activities and lunch on our unique secret beach. See details on www.tigermarinecharter.com.

There are many options to combine with this cruise, depending on the season, weather and tides, such as Naka Yai or Rang Yai islands - both have lovely white sand beaches. You can enjoy the boat toys, floating jacuzzies, boat slide, SUPs etc. Also on Naka island there are opportunities for wake-boarding, parasailing and jet-skies.

If you charter either ShaShi or Limpopo speedboats, you have the option of another wonderful cruise through southern Phang Nga Bay, a lunch ashore and a tour of Yao Noi island, followed by exploring underground caves, leading to secret hidden lagoons, guided by our boat crew. See separate brochure for details.
